Dear GianAngelo,

We have just returned to The Netherlands, after a year of having been in South Africa and a tour last month in Kenya.

My mother gave us the packages today of things we ordered during the last year, and in between those packages we found an envelope addressed to Marsel from you!!!! So: your letter with the 100 euro attached to it has been found after all.

This means that we can indeed send you a copy of the book, once it is ready. Based on 100 euro, I think it's safe to say that you would be able to get the TeNeues international edition (English & German), including the postage to Italy. Now that we have your letter, we also have your address.

I am however not sure of the exact timeline of when we would receive books from teNeues, as I'm sure that their first priority is to deliver books to the book stores and online sellers; not the author.

Also, I'm not sure where we'd be at the time the book is finished. If we are in South Africa, it won't be possible for us to add the text requested to the book, as up to now, no books would be sent to South Africa. In that case it's not possible to send you a signed copy. I trust you understand.

In any case: I'm very happy we found the letter and your money after all, hidden in the packages waiting for our return in The Netherlands. And we'll see to it that you get a copy of the international version of the book. The only thing we can't guarantee, is if it's signed.

Best regards.

Daniella
